A PENNSYLVANIA EDITOR'S COMMENT ON MISSIONARY FANATICISM.

Ezra J. Weaver has for many years, been on the firing line against Roman rule for America, and he has printed this news item in his "Anti-Clerical Whip," which he publishes at Lancaster, Penn., under the head of "Missionary Fanatics."

The following is taken from The Philadelphia Record:

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 15.—Responding to the strong appeals of Dr. A. B. Simpson, president of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, over $45,000 was raised for foreign missions, at the Rocky Springs convention today. The greatest enthusiasm was displayed, and money came freely in large amounts. Philadelphia gave $4,500; Pittsburgh, $7,000, and the Lancaster Mennonitis, $4,500; the Lancaster branch, $2,000; Williamsport, $1,200; Wilmington, $2,500; Washington, $800.

Several persons gave small pieces of jewelry instead of cash. During the morning service, Rev. Mr. Compton pleaded to the Almighty to stop the rain. As though the message was answered, the rain stopped almost instantly."

Commenting on this, Mr. Weaver said:

Priest Phelan, of St. Louis, says that he commands Christ to come down upon the altar in his church, and He comes down—He knows better than to disobey Priest Phelan, who is a notorious liar. In the above account we learn that a Protestant preacher's enthusiasm is taking the way which leads to the presumption enjoyed by the pagan priests of Rome. Moreover, in this "Missionary" fever we see a total ignorance of the position assumed by the subtle priests, which is to concentrate their wealth and energies upon the conquest of the government of the United States, while so-called Protestants waste their money on "the heathen" in foreign lands and leave their homes at the mercy of the vilest enemies of the race. The folly of the people of this country is hard to compass and describe; but it is certain to result in their undoing in the near future.

FROM AN OLD THOMSON BOY NOW IN MISSISSIPPI

Dear Sir: I cannot resist the impulse to mail you under separate cover, a copy of the Baptist Record of Mississippi, containing a clipping from the Journal and Messenger of Ohio, one of the most influential denominational papers (Baptist) in America, together with a brief but most sensible paragraph by the editor of the Baptist Record.

So much harsh and unjust criticism has been heaped upon Georgia because vigilants executed a law which a misguided governor failed to do, that I am sure it will be refreshing to you to read what these able men have to say, who evidently know something about the evidence in the Frank case and remain unshaken by the bellowing of the bulls of Basham, who in all probability know nothing whatever of the merits of the case. I can only wish that the people of my native state had waited to execute the judgment of the courts till a pardon had been given the poor pervert, the unfortunate degenerate, Frank. But had they waited he might have escaped and justice would have miscarried again.

Your friend, with love,
 N. W. P. BACON.

GEORGIA CHILDREN NEED LIBRARIES.

Dear Sir: Georgia boys and girls have their corn clubs, canning clubs, pigs, etc., but not a single library among the country boys and girls have we been able to locate.

The average country home in Georgia is so empty of books, except school trusts books, as the Sahara desert is of water.

Are our boys and girls to be able to talk about nothing but corn, tomatoes and pigs? Is it of more interest for a boy and his sweetheart to discuss the age and pedigree of a boar pig, than it is for them to discuss the writings of Hugo, DuMas, Shakespeare, Daniel, DeFae and hundreds of the greatest authors the world ever produced?

About all the chance the parents of Georgia children are giving them to obtain any knowledge of history of the world, is, what little the book trusts cram into their school books.

Why don't someone make an effort to organize country libraries?

Why is it that every community can't have its library club just as easily as it can its pig club?

If we are to judge the future by the past, how can future generations vote intelligently unless they know the history of our nation, and its past legislation?

Is it not just as important to know the history of past legislation as it is to know the date of our birth if we are to vote intelligently upon an issue?

Go into the average mercantile establishment, and ask for a set of any of our classics, and what would the merchant think of you?

Why towns of eight and ten thousand population in Georgia are without a bookstore. Books are awfully cheap these days, but that has no effect upon the average Georgian who lives in the country. Such a thing as one of them buying a set of histories, or fiction, in fact any book, (except some school text book) never crosses their minds.

This is not right and if we are ever to have a people worthy of governing themselves and the tradition of their people, times must change, and our young people brought to reading and thinking more about other things than boar pigs and canned tomatoes. Such citizens may suit corporations who are ready to exploit them, but it will not do for a republic.

Before the war of the '60s between the states, the people of the South were a people who read. You can find more old books scattered through the country now that belonged to those old people, than you will find new ones that have been bought since the war.

Let some young man who wishes to immortalize himself take it upon himself to canvass Georgia's rural communities in behalf of country libraries, even if he has to canvass the state on foot, let him arouse the boys and girls to the necessity of reading and he will accomplish very much more good than a hundred of those talking about the age of the black or white boar pig.

Yours respectfully,
 T. W. W.

PREFERRED TO READ THE JEFFERSONIAN.

Dear Sir: I want to thank you for the brave fight you are making for the poor people, not only for Georgia, but the South. Your paper is the only one that has defended the South in this tirade the Northern press is making against us Southern people.

I remember as a child hearing my father (Mr. D. A. Barkley) of North Carolina, often speak of Mr. Watson. He always spoke of you as being a fearless man, who was not afraid to speak the truth.

And I know he would, if living today, enjoy reading your Jeffersonian, being a true Tar Heel

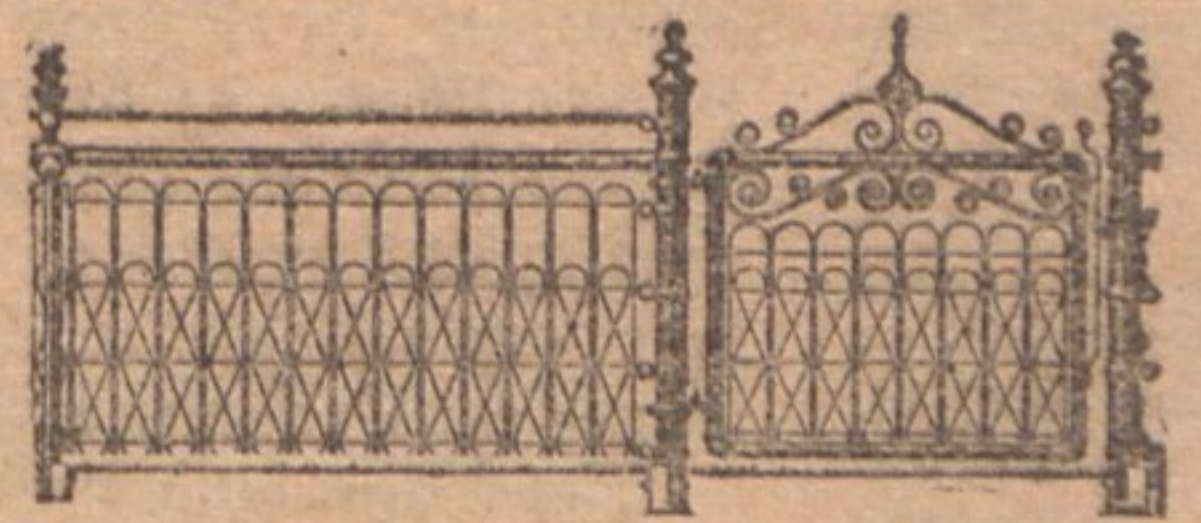

I was hurt when reading our daily Charlotte Observer, to see that they condemned the act of the so-called mob of Georgia.

In the Frank case if our deceased editor, Mr. Joseph Caldwell had been living, I don't believe this would have been true of our paper.

I have been buying the Observer from news stands for five years, since coming to Atlanta. But since learning their attitude I have not bought a single copy. Last week while down the street, I stopped to buy a copy of the Jeffersonian, and a street newsie ran up and tried to sell me a copy of the Augusta Chronicle so I could get correct news. He said he was a Jew. I told him no, I was buying the Jeffersonian for that purpose.

Wishing you many more years of life and good health in which to defend the people who are not able to defend themselves, I am,

Yours sincerely,
 MRS. WENTZ.

We have just purchased 50,000 feet of raw material of this design at greatly reduced prices. Those contemplating erecting RESIDENCE or CEMETERY FENCES can secure this fence at WHOLESALE PRICES. This is not a Machine made Fence. Every foot is inspected and Guaranteed.

GATE CITY FENCE WORKS,

Dear Sir: Myself, and several of your best friends in this section, would like to know the exact day on which your trial is to come off in Augusta. We want to be there.

Mr. Watson all good level-headed men know you are the greatest man living today. You are battling for the rights of the people. Would to God we had more men like you.

I believe Leo Frank would have been a free man today had it not been for you. But your pen caused justice to be meted out to him and I am glad of it, and so is 99 per cent. of this country.

Hoping to get to write more some time, I will close at present.

Fraternally yours,
 J. M. HAMMOCK.

READ THIS ALABAMA LETTER.

My Dear Sir: About the time Governor Slaton reprieved Frank, I had occasion to go to Tunnel Hill, Ga.; believing the governor had done the humane thing. Imagine my surprise when I read your excellent paper giving facts regarding the whole affair. I could hardly comprehend the situation. I had read the few extracts from various men, called ministers of the Gospel, and just such other news as was published by the lying press, and like the majority of the reading public I doubted Frank's guilt.

What kind of preachers have you down there? I tell you my honest opinion, hell is full of such preachers. Since reading the evidence, it is all plain as day.

We had Jews here who laughed at the idea of Frank hanging, one especially, a Mr. Kuhn, offered to bet $25.00 to $1.00 that he would never hang, and that was on Monday morning. Frank was then at Milledgeville, or on the way. The public had not heard the news, but now I am sure he knew all about it as he was a contributor.

Would to God your paper was in every home in this fair Southland of ours. I am reading mine and passing it on to my neighbor and they wear it out before it gets around. I am going to send you a club soon.

Your articles on Mission work and K. of C. and Roman Catholicism takes here, for the Catholics are strong, so strong that our Baptist minister was asked to resign because he began a series of sermons on Catholicism. He only got to preach two or three, when the deacons called on him and told him to let up, it was hurting their business!

He promptly informed them that he didn't propose to make any compromise with the devil, to help their's or anyone else's business. If they didn't allow him to do his own preaching to "pay me." Therefore, he handed in his resignation to take effect in thirty days.

At the same time he announced his subject for that length of time. When the deacons read that, they called on him again, and told him they would give him the thirty days as his vacation; he need not preach any more. So he left and is in Sweetwater, Tennessee.

Now his brother has a big school there, and he is secretary and treasurer. His name is W. B. Woodward; a finer man never lived; and he is going after the Catholics, and I hope you will get in communication with him. Please send him sample of your paper. I am sure he has never seen one for I read all the leading papers, and am free to confess I never heard o' your paper until this summer.

My wife is a Whitfield County, Ga., woman and I a Tennessean, so I am sure interested in Georgia, and am proud of one county especially, Cobb. They are made of the right kind of clay. Of course the results would have been the same in any County in the state. The wonder is they could desist as long as they did, and then for the pack of slanderers to call them a mob!

God be with you and yours,
R. F. ERWIN.

YOU CAN STUDY "BLACKSTONE'S COMMENTARIES" AT HOME.

Dear Sir: I have been a reader of your Jeffersonian for some time. Have read Bethany, Waterloo, Sketches of Roman History and the Life and Speeches of Thomas E. Watson, and feel greatly benefitted thereby.

The way you handle the Frank case, (Judge) John M. Slaton and Col. Luther J. Rosser meets with my approval and the approval of all good people.

Please answer the following questions in the next week's Jeffersonian: Can a person study law at home and be admitted to the bar?

What book could he study so as to be admitted to the bar?

Thanking you in advance for the favor,
Yours truly,

CATTS CLUB ORGANIZED IN ZOLFO.

At a called meeting of the Young American Voters of Zolfo on the evening of the 20th, a regular organization for active campaign work was perfected in support of the candidacy of Sydney J. Catts for governor of the state of Florida and the secretary was instructed to report the Truth as an item of news.

The following officers were elected: President, T. O. Mercer.

Secretary-Treasurer G. B. Langford. Committee on Propaganda: E. O. Sawyer, A. B. Carter, T. O. Mercer, L. R. Ogletree, R. C. Havis, R. I. Shutes, G. B. Langford, Luke Howze, M. J. Boyce.

The following resolutions were read and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The powerful political organization known as the Holy Church of Rome has declared its purpose to "Make America Catholic" and by its secret underhand tactics has already gained a footing among us whereby with only fourteen per cent. of the voting strength it is able to dominate the politics of our country, and,

Whereas, There is nothing "Sacred," "Holy," "Sanctified," or superstitious about our American politics and clothing it in the garb of a church cannot make it so and,

Whereas, It is essentially a foreign bird, and can not be made to work harmoniously in harness with our Eagle, and,

Whereas, The old time voters of our land seem unable to get away from old issues long since dead and buried, while this menace to our liberties is rapidly undermining everything fashioned after true American ideals, and the daily press of the country has everywhere been scared into silence, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the young American voters of Zolfo viewing with alarm and patriotic indignation the cringing subserviency of so many of our politicians both state and national, to this Romish influence, can no longer refrain from taking appropriate action in the premises, based upon the self-evident fact that the only effective method of dealing with this religio-political monstrosity is a vigorous application of the "Catt-O'-Nine-Tails."

T. O. MERCER, President.
G. B. Langford, Secretary-Treasurer.

ONE BLAST OF TOM WATSON'S RAM'S HORN WOULD CALL TOGETHER 50,000 ARMED MEN.

Dear Sir: Ever since reading that threat against you and others, my old blood has been hot. When General Strauss, Colonel Hass, Major Ochs with their gang of Gideonite sodomites, and all that great army of Jerusalemites marches into Georgia to run you and others out of the state or even whisper assassination, I felt like greasing up old Betsy and hitting the trail as I did in Johnson's army in '64 and '65.

I am an old Confederate soldier, but not too old to fight, if I am too old to run.

When such riotous talk as that comes out in the Jew-owned newspapers that same old spunk that our forefathers had in 1776 and 1812 comes right into a fellow and he gets in an ugly mood and wants to hurt somebody. General Strauss and his dirty gang of Jews would get wiped off the face of the earth before hell could scorch a feather. One blast from Tom Watson's horn would put 50,000 men in the field at any central point as quick as the iron horse could carry them, and I would be there with old Betsy.

It does seem that Slaton, John Grant and the darned Jews don't know the temper of the people. They don't seem to know they are playing with hell fire. Let them get out in the country on the farms and hear the talk of the great common class and they will be surprised. Slow to anger but thoroughly patriotic. Once aroused they would clean out the Jew population in Georgia in a twinkling. They had better go slow as the people are tired of their threats. Sometimes I think these Shylocks, like all Jews are, should not be allowed to make their fortunes out of gentiles and then use that money to override the law and abuse our women, the flowers of this glorious Southland of ours. Let them rant dod-gast them, nobody is afraid of them.

Georgia.

A Last Effort to Keep the Farmer Out of a Trap.

Some of the patriots, who got the Government money, and bought your cotton at 6 cents, are now belly-aching because the government won't order England's fleet off the ocean, so that the gamblers can take their 6 cent cotton to Germany and get 45 cents for it.

What sympathy did the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce show for the farmer, last year?

None.

What effort did it make to aid him?

None.

What word did it say in his behalf?

NONE.

They never rested until the gamblers had loaded up with cotton, at $30 a bale, which the government insured for $70, after having loaned the money with which it was bought.

These are the patriots who import John McLaurin from South Carolina, to hypnotize our leaders, and frame a bill that will suit Joe McCord, Henry McCord, C. J. Haden, H. E. Stockbridge and James D. Price.

What is the secret of John McLaurin's sudden interest in the farmers of Georgia?

Personally, I have nothing against McLaurin, but he has been shown to be the same sort of corporation and Standard Oil man that Baily, Sibley and Foraker were shown to be.

Whom does McLaurin represent, when he comes into Georgia to make speeches and frame laws for warehouses?

Who is paying him for his time, his traveling expenses and his services?

WHOM IS HE WORKING FOR?

I deeply regret that Governor Harris was persuaded to put the warehouse bill on the program for the extra session.

I fail to see how it can be classed as "emergency" legislation.

There is no demand for it among the people.

There has been no discussion of it before the people. It comes upon us suddenly from the womb of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, just as that new tax-law did.

There are enough warehouses to store all the cotton, and I haven't heard any complaints against warehouse charges for storage.

The complaint is about the difficulty of getting loans, and the high rates of interest charged.

There is where the shoe pinches.

This proposed new system is a banker's trick.

It is a trap, to catch the farmer.

It is meant to preserve and legalize the monopoly enjoyed by the National banks, and as a fraudulent substitute for the government loans which the democratic party promised.

The "emergency" is political; next year is Presidential-election year, and Wilson wants another term.

To head off the farmers and deprecate the wrath to come, their leaders have been seduced into an acceptance of a state loan system.

If such a system is created at the apparent request of the farmers, the tricky politicians can say, next year—"we meant to give you what we promised, but you went and accepted another plan."

Once more, I warn the leaders of the farmers, that if they allow themselves switched off, on this side-track, they'll never get back on the main line.

Barrett, Brown and others ought to know that any plan, coming from the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the Regional banks, is bound to be a trap for the farmers.

Commuters Fade Away as Lists are Examined.

More Slaton-Haas-Rosser Frauds.

SOME time ago, The Jeffersonian exposed the fact that the commuters, whose spirits were invoked from the vasty deep by Samuel Adams, were almost entirely composed of Jew men, women and children; Gentiles whose bread depends on Jew employers; Railroad lawyers, very big and very little Gentiles who are conscientiously opposed to capital punishment; Gentiles who had been misled as to the evidence; Roman Catholics, who were rejoiced to slap at anything Watson favored, and to favor anything he opposed; hired men, lawyers more or less connected with Frank's lawyers; John Grant, C. T. Ladson a Bishop or two; and a damaged lot of Doctors of Divinity—such as Wilmer, Jake White, and the ever-ready John E.

The following analytical letter is interesting:

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 30, 1915.

Dear Sir: John Grant's hired man claims to publish 10,000 names as petitioners for the commutation of Leo Frank.

By actual count, there are 6,703. Of this number I find repetitions and errors as follows:

1. Names repeated under the same head. For instance, list from Jesup, Ga., contains 102 names. Of this number two names are listed three times and twenty-four names listed twice, cutting the actual number to 74.
2. Names shifted to different heads. For instance, list headed Dalton, Ga., contains nine names, of which six are repeated under the list headed Whitfield county.
3. Names of firms followed by names of individual members of the firms.
4. Forgeries, plainly visible to any one who cares to study the list. Certain names run through the entire list.

Williamson, Ga. (if you know where it is, I don't), is credited with 175 names.

Allowing for all the above named errors, I carefully figure that 25 per cent of the names should be stricken out.

This would leave 6,703
Less 25 per cent 1,676

Just half of the number claimed 5,027
Now deduct 50 per cent Jews 2,513

Gentiles 2,514
Augusta (population 41,040), has list of 171.
Not as many as Williamson, Ga., 175.

Marietta, Ga., population, 6,000, three names;
Fitzgerald, Ga., population, 6,000, 1 name; Canton, Ga., population, 2,500, one name; Babcock, Ga., one name, and it repeated to make two.

Very truly,
R. H. R.

As The Jeffersonian has already shown, the Clarksville list was forged, no such people being known in Habersham County.

The Montezuma list had the name of one man, a Jew, the others being women and children, all Jews, and two of them only 7 years old.

(Why didn't they let the babies make their marks?)

The East Point list was forged and fictitious, with the exception of one woman, who works for an Atlanta Jew.

The West Point list was partly forged and partly Alabamian.

By way of further proof of the fraudulent manner in which the Commuters' lists were made, I give you the following:

Carrollton, Ga., Oct. 4, 1915.

Dear Sir: I beg to say that on September 28, 1915, they published a list of the names from Carrollton, who are supposed to have requested that the sentence of Leo M. Frank be commuted to life imprisonment, and in that my name appears. I want to say that I have never signed any such list, never saw such a petition in my life, and have never authorized anyone to sign for me. The same was put there without my knowledge, consent or authority, and I will certainly appreciate it if you will state this for me in your paper.

Yours very truly,
BUFORD F. BOYKIN.

Mr. Boykin is a member of the law-firm of Boykin & Robinson, and it gives me pleasure to set him right.

Mr. T. M. Zellars, of Grantville, Ga., wrote a respectful letter to John Grant's hired man, calling his attention to the padded, or erroneous list of Commuters from that vicinity.

There are about 1,500 people in Grantville, and the commuters showed up 50 strong; but Mr. Zellars, who has always lived there, and who knows nearly everybody in that vicinity, wrote to Grant's hired man that only seven of those fifty names were genuine.

Instead of being courteously answered Mr. Zellars was insulted, as the following remonstrance will show.

Dear Sir: In acknowledging receipt of yours of the 1st, and in reply am frank to state that I am very much surprised at its contents, coming from one who holds such a responsible position as yourself.

One who is capable of doing so much good by presenting the truth to your subscribers, or on the contrary doing so serious a damage to innocent communities by publishing falsehoods or even not consenting to correct them when your attention has been called to it.

I noticed in your columns the mistake of the names of petitioners from our community and I simply meant in a friendly way to call your attention to the fact that this petition had been stuffed or a typographical error had occurred, and I was satisfied that one holding so responsible a position as yourself should be broad enough and generous enough to gladly correct any mistake published, but on the contrary you have replied by simply stating that you copied the records from the executive department without even looking into their genuineness, but proceeded to ridicule Tom Watson and others whose names had not been mentioned or suggested in my letter to you.

Such arguments as these tend to convince the public that it is you, and not Tom Watson, who is falsifying and trying to deceive the people.

For the life of me I cannot see how a man who holds as important a position as you hold, can be so bold as to try and mislead the public by printing inaccuracies that you decline to correct when your attention is called to it.

However, this is your business, perhaps, and not mine, but I am confident that you, too, will get your just deserts at the end.

Yours very truly,
T. M. ZELLARS.

Additional Letters From the People

GENERAL A. J. WEST AND HIS OUT-THROAT FRIENDS.

A State of Washington friend sends me the following eulogy on my friend General West:

Georgian Here Says Lynching is All Right.

"You can rely on Georgia to carry out the law."

This was the comment of General Andrew J. West, formerly quartermaster of the state in which Leo Frank was recently lynched by a mob, in speaking at the New Washington hotel of the hanging.

General West said he was satisfied the lynching was justified.

He was the guest Friday of Dr. Hamilcar Zoepffel, the Seattle German consul.

God Forbid!

Out of courtesy to the state of Washington, where even the state is not permitted to kill human beings and capital punishment is no more, Gen. Andrew J. West of Atlanta, State of Lynch Rule, could have well spared his eulogy of the Leo Frank murderers until he got back home among his cut-throat friends. In an interview in Seattle, West said the Frank murderers carried out the law instead of violating it.

He also said Seattle resembled Atlanta in many ways.

God forbid that Seattle should resemble it in its barbaric lust for human blood."

I judge from the above that the remarks of General West are not approved on the Pacific slope, where the vigilantes used to hang horse thieves and cattle rustlers.

Come on home, General. You're cut-throat friends are afraid they'll get a mob after you, if you remain out there among the Mollycoddles.

T. E. W.'s TRIAL WILL COME UP IN NOVEMBER.

Dear Sir: God help your old soul. You are the grandest hero of the age. I hope you will live a thousand years and bless the world with your wisdom. When the news that that horrid Jew's neck was broke was wafted over the wires, a million hearts of the best people in the land swelled with emotion and said thank God the blood of that innocent child has been avenged. If you had not espoused the cause of justice by upholding the majesty of the courts against this mob of Atlanta Dailies, that Benedict Arnold renegade would have pardoned that demon, and hied him away at night as they did before.

Go on, God bless you, telling them the truth as no other man can do. Ninety per cent of the best people endorse you, notwithstanding the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce to the contrary.

The people of Georgia are as good and law abiding as any state in the union and if the same thing had occurred in the other states, they would not have waited two whole years before acting.

I heard a yankee say that rape was committed in his town by a negro, and that the next day a mob arose and killed and burned out a whole district and that the papers never mentioned it. If it had occurred in the South, the northern papers would have howled a month about it. Some body has said that the world needs every man; but not much, but this cannot apply to you, for if you were gone, I would say God have mercy on us for the common people would have no one to hold up their cause and fight their battles.

The people can never repay you for the grand life you have lived in being the hero and always fighting for the pest people.

Your write-up on Socialism and Catholicism is enough to immortalise you and cause your name to live until this old world is burned up. When you are gone, the people ought to build a monument over you that would last a thousand years.

I see your trial is to come up in November. If you do not want to go to trial, have Cardinal Gibbons subpoenaed as a witness and he will have it put off, for he would rather serve six months in hell than to go on the stand one hour before you. No sir, old Gibbons will never give you a lick at him. He would not do it for all the money of the Rothchilds.

I have loved and admired you for twenty years. I was a stockholder in your daily and I buy and read your paper every week. God bless you with a long life of usefulness.

Yours, etc.,
C. B. SEWELL.

WHAT ARE WE MEN TO DO, WITHOUT COATS AND BREECHES?

Farr-Seigler Clothing Co.,
Augusta, Ga.

Gentlemen:

We have yours of the 7th, and note contents.

In reply we want to say that on the day that Leo Frank was murdered in Georgia, we made up our minds that we wanted to do no business in a state where the officers of the law could condone such crimes.

We will sell no goods nor buy any goods from any business concerns in the state of Georgia.

That is the position we have decided to take, and we are going to stick to it.

Yours very truly,
CAMBRIDGE TAILORING CO.
(Comment.)

Here is a situation that I view with alarm. If our Georgia tailors can't get the cloth, how are they to fit our many chests with new coats, and our graceful legs with new breeches?

T. E. W.

A CHEERING VOICE FROM NORTH LOUISIANA.

Dear Friend: As one of your old standbys, I am writing you a few lines to let you know that all your north Louisiana friends are still with you to a man, and there are lots of them here, as your subscription list will show. Your stand in the Frank case has made you many friends, everybody in this country believes Frank was guilty, as the court found. Don't see how any sane man could see it any other way.

The hit dog is the one that howls, that is why the Jews and their hired men holler when you strike with that able pen. Just keep hitting so we can soon know who all of them are.

With best wishes from one who has always read your writings, and who has hanging in his house an enlarged photograph of T. E. W. face out and expect it to hang there as long as I shall be permitted to live.

Your friend,
J. L. ANDERSON.

ALL GEORGIANS BELIEVE IN FAIR PLAY FOR JEWS AND GENTILES.

Dear Sir: As I have not seen anything from this community, I thought I would say a few words. You may rest assured that at least 90 per cent of our people are with you in your stand taken in the Frank case. We believe in fair play for Jew and Gentile, for rich and poor.

There are a few who say that Tom is a crank and extremist, but they will desert the contents of the Jeffersonian just as soon as they can borrow one from their neighbors. We are a law abiding people, detest and denounce the course taken by the ex-governor of Georgia. We are truly glad that there is one newspaper in the state with manhood and courage enough to tell the truth in the face of so great opposition. May you live long and keep up the fight against rotten government and Jew money. We are with you to the finish.

Yours truly,
J. M. PARKER.

ELBERTON FOLK ENDORSE T. E. W.

Dear Sir: We, the undersigned citizens of Elbert County hereby offer you our heartfelt thanks and gratitude for your brave and noble stand you have taken in the defense of the martyred little Mary Phagan, and the law and dignity of the grand old state of Georgia.

All the way through your argument has been so plain and convincing that the way faring man, though a fool, need not err therein.

HIS GOOD WISHES ARE AS MUCH APPRECIATED AS HIS LIST.

Dear Sir: Enclosed find check for $6.50 to cover subscriptions for names enclosed.

You will accept this my compliments for the gallant fight you are making in behalf of the common people and the sovereignty of the grand old state of Georgia. You have fought a good fight and kept the faith.

Some day the people may wake up but alas I am afraid, too late. When your life is spent, and you have gone over with the redeemed then will they cover the spot of earth that holds the temple of clay with flowers, and perhaps build a monument over that spot of earth that may perhaps pierce the clouds, but as for me, I shall endeavor to cast a few roses at you in this life that you may behold their beauty and inhale their fragrance.

It is said every man has a price, but thus far they have never been able to reach yours.

Sometimes I think the people are beginning to understand you and getting out from under the hypnotism of those slick politicians, God speed the day. You should guard your person well for fear of those traitors and murderers.

May the good God preserve your life for many years to come, for it would be a sad day for Georgia just at this time for them to get you.

Your friend of 25 years,
WILLIAM A. AIKEN.

WHY THE NORTH THOUGHT FRANK INNOCENT.

Dear Sir: I have been a reader of your paper and magazine for about two years, and am certainly glad there is one man who is not afraid to publish the truth.

I have had a good many arguments in the past month in regard to the guilt of Leo Frank. I usually persuade my opponents to buy a copy of your magazine and without an exception, they have changed their opinion.

It is not to be wondered that the people of the North believe Frank innocent, when we consider the source of their information. (The Jewish controlled press). There is not one in one hundred who read your paper or magazine.

My father fought in the Union army in the Civil War, but I haven't anything but the deepest regard for the people of the South. And I am glad that the great state of Georgia furnished men with nerve and backbone enough to carry out the mandate of the law, in regard to Frank. And I congratulate that state on having one man with moral courage enough to publish the truth without fear or favor.

Mr. Watson, I would consider it a great pleasure to shake you by the hand, and sometime I am going to make a trip down there, to indulge in that pleasure. Believe me,

Very truly yours,
J. R. SHAW.

THIS MR. SUTTLES IS A SCHOOL TEACHER, AND NEVER HAS SOLICITED FOR ANY PUBLICATION.

Dear Sir: In this week's issue of the Jeffersonian, you advise the public to beware of W. M. Suttles, who is not authorized to solicit subscriptions for the Jeffersonian Publishing Company. As that is my name and initials, I am afraid that a number of acquaintances will get the impression that I am the one meant in the notice of warning; so I ask you to please correct the same.

I am a teacher in the public schools of Atlanta. I have never solicited subscriptions for the Jeffersonian or any other paper, and furthermore, I have no desire to do so.

Will you please give this letter as prominent a place in the next issue of the Jeffersonian as you gave the notice of warning?

Respectfully yours,
W. M. SUTTLES.
