

FORREST ADAIR'S MESSAGE TO ATLANTA

DALLAS, TEXAS, May 14.—The victory is ours, as we promised ourselves it should be. Now let all loyal Atlantans get ready to make next year's session of the Imperial Council the very best, and most enjoyable it ever has known. It can be done, and it will be done, for to do it that way is to do it Atlanta's way.

ATLANTA WINS NEXT SHRINE YAARAB NOBLES DEFEAT COMMITTEE'S REPORT

SECRET HUNT BY BURNS IN MYSTERY IS LIKELY

Probably Will Not Reveal Presence in City as He Investigates Phagan Case.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder said Wednesday that Detective William J. Burns had not arrived, as yet, in New York from his European trip, but that as soon as he did he undoubtedly would start a search for Atlanta to work upon the Mary Phagan strangling mystery.

Colonel Felder is acquainted with the details of the hour in which the famous sleuth will reach this city, but for the purposes of investigation he is withholding the information.

"There was no authority for the statement that Detective Burns would be in New York Tuesday," said Colonel Felder. "The date of his arrival has been in my office, but it has not been made public."

"It is quite likely that the great detective will see quietly and unobtrusively into the city, make an investigation of the mystery and slip out before any persons are aware of his presence, and that he has been working on the case."

In Touch With Burns Agency. Colonel Felder has in constant touch with Raymond Burns, son of the detective, who is secretary and treasurer of the Burns Agency and has office in New York. The agency is believed in possession of the important new developments in the mystery as rapidly as they occur. An outie of the whole case that he arrested his New York office.

The increase in importance of the case attached to the notes that were found beside the dead body of Mary Phagan was believed Wednesday when several handwriting experts were called by Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorr.

An expert called at the coroner's inquest that thobes, in his opinion, were written by Nevert Lee, the night watchman at a National Pistol Factory. The report was corroborated by the official testimony of two other experts.

FORREST ADAIR, Potentat of Yaarab Temple, who led the great fight and won the 1914 Shrine seat for Atlanta. He won the title of the "livest wire" at the Dallas convention, working unceasingly for the Gate City's success.

GREAT WELCOME PLANNED FOR VICTORIOUS YAARAB'S

To Atlanta will come the next annual convocate of the Imperial Council of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

For the Gate City the Shrine convention of 1914 has been won, and to the members of the Yaarab Temple belong the honors for this signal triumph.

In the forefront of the battle with other contenders for the honor of entertaining the Shrine were Illinois Potentate Forrest Adair, Dak Potentate John A. Hynek, Claude H. Hutchinson, W. A. Foster, Joseph A. Greenfield, Robert L. Golding and Imperial Outer Guard E. A. Cullis of Savannah. To these public-spirited citizens will go the plaudits of the city for their noble work.

Plan Welcomes to Yaarab. With flags flying and banners waving, Atlanta will give heretofore to the victorious army of Yaarab Shrine on their triumphant return home. And the band will play "Lo, the Conquering Heroes Come."

Quickly following upon the flush of victory from Dallas, preparations for a gala reception to Atlanta brigade were set on foot. No time is to be lost. When the Yaarab delegation with drum corps and patrol arrives on their special train, probably Sunday morning they will be met by a reception "thou which there has

ATLANTA SPIRIT AGAIN TRIUMPHS IN GREAT FIGHT

Buffalo, Entering as Dark Horse, and Recommended by Committee, Makes Vain Race; Adair and Aides Praised by All For Their Fine Work

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

DALLAS, TEX., May 14.—Atlanta came through with bells on to-day, winning next year's imperial council meeting, notwithstanding the fact that at the last moment an effort was made to sidetrack her and break up her hopes. The committee appointed yesterday by the Imperial Potentate reported in favor of Buffalo, much to everybody's surprise, as that town was entered as a dark horse at the last moment.

The fight was carried to the floor and Atlanta won by the following vote:
Atlanta, 230
Buffalo, 65
Memphis, 69

Forrest Adair and his faithful Yaarab, after one of the finest campaigns ever waged in behalf of Atlanta, will "bring home the bacon," even as he promised.

"ATLANTA SPIRIT" AGAIN WINS.

The things that put Atlanta over in this fight were, first of all, that magnificent Atlanta spirit which raised well along toward $100,000 for the entertainment of the Imperial Council before a word of invitation as extended; second, he most intelligent and tireless work put forth in Atlanta's behalf by Forrest Adair and his co-workers.

Adair hardly has slept since he arrived in Dallas. His one idea at all times has been to win the fight for next year's meeting. He is the best known Shriner in the South. He has been a regular attendant upon imperial council sessions for eighteen years, and kind good and well how most effectively and most intelligently to proceed with the work outlined for him here.

I doubt that any other individual in Georgia could so surely have led this fight to a successful finish and with so few mistakes along the way. Of course, here is glory for all, and glory enough to go round, but the major slice of it is Adair's.

TO REACH HOME SUNDAY.

The Atlanta party will divide into two squads, one part going on a short tour of Texas, the other returning home by way of Hot Springs, Ark.

Potentate Adair and his party probably will reach Atlanta Sunday morning. By to-morrow morning Dallas will resemble nothing so much as a deserted banquet hall, but congratulating itself upon one of the most acceptable bunches of good fellows it ever saw gathered together anywhere.

MEMPHIS MAKES POOR FIGHT.

Memphis was outgeneraled and outfought at every turn of the cards, and the magnificent floor vote accorded Atlanta shows how well Forrest Adair had planned his campaign.

It was not thought the imperial potentate would go so far as to fix a committee on the quiet against Atlanta, but apparently this is what he did. He was reported lukewarm to the Gate City last night, but as he was the only imperial officer hostile the interpretation was that the committee would report in favor of Atlanta.

As a matter of fact, it was rumored unofficially last night as standing three to two favorable to Atlanta. Buffalo never was

BURNS SAYS HE WILL HUNT PHAGAN SLAYER

Noted Detective Expected to Take Up Case June 1--One of His Experts Coming Soon.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder, noted Atlanta lawyer, Thursday issued the positive statement that William J. Burns would take charge of the Phagan investigation immediately upon his return from Europe, June 1.

In the meantime a criminal investigator will be sent from the Burns Agency's New York office to prosecute the investigation.

Colonel Felder gave out the following dispatch received from Raymond J. Burns, son of William J. Burns, in New York, which tells of the father's determination to take up the Phagan mystery:

Father still in Europe. Returns about June 1. He consents to take charge of Phagan investigation immediately upon his return. He suggests I send a criminal investigator to New York. Investigation immediately before success gets to cold.

Colonel Felder declared his surprise and confidence in Burns' ability to clear up the Phagan mystery and bring to light the person or persons guilty of the murder.

Thinks Fund Can Be Raised.
He declared that his action in securing the detective was given impetus by the demands of Atlanta citizens to clear up the Phagan case, and that he expressed his belief that sufficient funds to cover the investigation will be easily forthcoming.

Already, he declared, the foundation of a fund had been secured through the generous donations of friends of the Phagan girl and other people who have interested themselves in her case. Colonel Felder himself has turned over to the fund the fee paid his legal team to assist in the prosecution.

And now, with the subscriptions well under way, he declared, the public-spirited citizens of Atlanta and popular subscriptions, would be asked to make up the shortage.

Colonel Felder's statement in full is as follows:

Statement by Felder.
The time is at hand when I deem it not only proper, but necessary, that I take the public into my confidence relative to the further proposed investigation of the Phagan murder case.

My firm was employed by neighbors and friends of the deceased shortly after the crime was committed to aid in the preparation of the case and the prosecution thereof.

Without intending to reflect in the slightest degree upon the vigilant detectives engaged upon the case, who seem to be doing their utmost to ferret out the mystery, it occurred to me that the magnitude of the crime justified an effort to secure the services of William J. Burns, a man with a record of successes covering a period of 30 years or more--and without financial amount charged against him.

Women Aid in Charge.
A committee of prominent women of the city, distinguished for their philanthropic work, called upon me, assuring me that funds sufficient to cover the expenses of Burns' investigation would be raised by public subscription. I assured these good women of my willingness to contribute out of my own pocket, in addition to the amount which I immediately got into communication with Mr. Burns, and the result of my efforts will be reflected by the program which reached me in New York, which is being published herewith.

I feel that those interested in seeing justice vindicated by fitting this crime upon the guilty parties, whom I feel certain will be brought to punishment through the efforts of this distinguished

East Point Town Marshal Is Found Dead in Street

Lying face downward in the middle of the street, with the head buried in the folded arms, J. C. Cash, night marshal of East Point, was found dead in front of the Citizens Bank at East Point, Thursday morning at 1:30 o'clock.

Edward Thrallkill, a truck farmer, found the body. The body was found by Thrallkill on the upper floor of the Citizens Bank building, and an examination failed to disclose any marks or wounds on the body. Dr. Griffin is of the opinion that death was caused by apoplexy, but he has not yet made a close enough examination to be sure.

SECRET HUNT BY BURNS IN MYSTERY IS LIKELY

Probably Will Not Reveal Presence in City as He Investigates Phagan Case.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder said Wednesday that Detective William J. Burns had not arrived, as yet, in New York from his European trip, but that as soon as he did he undoubtedly would start at once for Atlanta to work upon the Mary Phagan strangling mystery.

Colonel Felder is acquainted with the day and the hour on which the famous sleuth will reach this city, but for the purpose of the investigation he is withholding the information.

There was no authority for the statement that Detective Burns would be in New York Tuesday, said Colonel Felder. "The date of his arrival has been known in my office, but it has not been made public."

"It is quite likely that the great detective will come quietly and unannounced into the city, make his investigation of the mystery and slip out before many persons are aware from their own knowledge that he has been working on the case."

In Touch With Burns Agency. Colonel Felder has in his constant touch with Raymond Burns, son of the detective, who is secretary and treasurer of the Burns agency and has offices in New York. The agency is being placed in possession of the case by the Atlanta police, but he arrives at his New York offices.

It increases importance being attached to the notes that were found beside the dead body of Mary Phagan was in his handwriting when several handwriting experts were called before Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey.

An expert testified at the Coroner's inquest that the notes, in his opinion, were written by Newt Lee, the slight workman at the National Pen Factory. The expert was corroborated by the unofficial testimony of two other experts.

The Solicitor, however, has not been satisfied with the evidence he had on this important point. Experts were called who disagreed with the conclusions presented to the Coroner's jury. The writing in the notes found near the body of Mary Phagan, they declared, was much better than the normal writing of Newt Lee.

Difference in the Slant. The writing showed evidence of education and training which Lee did not possess.

Lee would have had to be under instruction for two or three months, they said, before he could show the improvement that is evident between the first specimen of his handwriting and the handwriting of the notes.

Lee's normal handwriting shows a decided slant. That the notes closely approach the perpendicular.

The final letter in each of the words written by Lee ended abruptly, the final letters in the notes were rounded off, indicating a consideration of the penmanship.

A poem said to have been written by Mary Phagan was found in the basement of the National Pen Factory. The poem, entitled "My Pa," and Mary is said by her father, J. W. Coleman, to have been the author.

The poem follows:
My pa's a fighter, but he ain't no
feller's enemy, but he ain't no feller's friend, but you can bet he ain't no doctor.

There it remains until finally the terrible pressure brought to bear by the weight will overpower the normal mind and prevail. It is then the prisoner is easily trapped into an admission of his guilt.

For such a state to be brought in the mind, a prisoner caught in a snare of guilt, he must be led to brood over the crime. Then it is that the horror to the human mind of what he has done will finally force the denial the guilty man has drawn up, and in despite his confession follows. In such cases the self-confessed criminal is a case for a different kind of treatment.

DRS. STONE AND LYONS HEAD PRESBYTERIANS

Chicago Man Moderator of Northern Chicago, Louisville Pastor of Southern Church.

The Rev. John W. Stone, of Chicago, was elected moderator of the general assembly of the Northern Presbyterian church on second ballot. His vote was overwhelming.

With cheers that lasted several minutes the name of Rev. John T. Stone, of Chicago, as a "non-political" candidate for moderator was placed in nomination as a "dark horse" by Rev. J. R. King, of Monmouth, Ill., at the assembly of the Northern Presbyterian church late this afternoon.

With Dr. Stone's name added to the list of possible moderators the nominations were closed with the Rev. Maitland Alexander, Pittsburg; Rev. William McKibben, Cincinnati; Rev. Howard A. Johnston, Bridgeport, Conn. and Rev. S. S. Palmer, of Columbus, Ohio, in the contest.

Rev. John F. Stone's unexpected nomination caused his name to lead the first ballot. Unopponents declared, after the ballot, that his election was assured.

The Revs. Howard A. Johnston, S. S. Palmer and William McKibben were eliminated on the first ballot. The contest is to be decided between Rev. Stone and Dr. Maitland Alexander, of Pittsburg.

The result of the first ballot was: Revs. Stone, 814; Alexander, 285; Palmer, 114; Johnston, 65 and McKibben 46.

Dr. J. S. Lyons, of Louisville, was elected moderator of the Southern Presbyterian Assembly on the fourth ballot Thursday afternoon by 109 votes, to 93 for Dr. R. C. Reed, of Columbia, the other nominees having dropped out on the ballot.

Five names were put in nomination.

The result of the first ballot was: Dr. A. M. Frazer, Staunton, Va., 26; Dr. Lyons, 75; Dr. W. M. McPheeters, Columbia, 10; Dr. W. McP. Alexander, New Orleans, 45, and Reed, 48.

Dr. McPheeters withdrew his name from the ballot and the four were left to vote on.

Thursday saw the inauguration of the real work of two thousand delegates and visitors to these great Presbyterian assemblies, gathered in one city for the first time in the history of America.

The actions of this great body of men will affect nearly two million people, members of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

At the opening of the Northern Assembly, in the Baptist Tabernacle, Dr. Mark A. Matthews, the retiring moderator, delivered the sermon that is always awaited with interest. His subject was "The Victories of Faith." The Fallures of Unbelief" and he declared in a ringing tone that the greatest need of the church was faith.

These candidates in field.

For the moderatorship of the Northern Assembly three candidates have appeared in the field. That the controversy will be hotly fought is almost certain, but all the indications favored a victory for the conservative.

The candidates are Dr. Maitland Alexander, of Pittsburg, Pa., who has the support of the conservative element; Dr. S. S. Palmer, of Columbus, Ohio, and Dr. William McKibben, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The session of the Southern Assembly was opened by Dr. Thomas S. Clegg, of Sherman, Texas, the retiring moderator, at the North Avenue Church. Owing to the policy pursued by this organization, which precludes politics in the election of moderators, no candidate has appeared for that office.

BOY KILLED BY BROTHER

Hartman Boone, 17 years of age, late Thursday afternoon accidentally shot and killed his 6-year-old brother, Irwin, while the two little fellows were at play in the back yard of their home, 28 Stewart avenue.

Matthew Boone was almost crazed by the tragedy, and refused to be comforted by friends who were attracted by his screams and rushed to the scene.

Little Irwin was shot through the neck with a bullet from a parlor rifle.

The fugitive vein was severed and he died instantly. His brother-in-law said he had dropped the rifle, and it is picked it up from the ground, it is charged.

The two boys are sons of T. A. Boone, of the Byrd Printing Company, who was immediately notified of the tragedy and hurried home.

Coroner Donohoe was also notified and will hold an inquest.

Fastening for Cancer, Paris Expert's Cure

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, PARIS, May 13--Dr. Keating Hall, famous French cancer specialist, who laid before the Academy of Medicine a new theory for the cure of the malignant disease, which consisted chiefly of fastening, holds that cancer is not hereditary and that it can be cured.

The general treatment consists in reduction of food almost to the point of starvation; the local treatment, consists of the usual operation followed by the directing of a stream of high-tension electric sparks against the affected part.

Dr. Hart believes that the overabundance of blood, due to heavy eating, makes part of the body susceptible to cancer germs.

2 Bandits Hold Up 200 Men and Loot a Gambling Den

TULSA, OKLA., May 13--With drawn revolvers two masked youths held up a crowd of 200 men at the "Turf Exchange" on Main Street early this morning and got away with $2,800 in cash.

The upper floor of the place was crowded with men when two strangers appeared at the entrance to the room. They had blue handkerchiefs over their faces and while one man held the various tables gathering up all the money in sight and placing it in a metal chest, the other threw a rear door.

The robbers then backed out of the pool hall. They made their escape through a rear door.

The body was found by Thrallish as he was driving into East Point from Tulsa. He saw a man lying on the sidewalk, and his club was lying by his side, where it had dropped. He took the man to the hospital.

BURNS WILL HUNT PHAGAN'S SLAYER

Noted Detective Himself Coming to Atlanta to Solve Police Mystery.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder, noted Atlanta lawyer, Thursday issued the positive statement that William J. Burns would take charge of the Phagan investigation immediately upon his return from Europe, June 1.

In the meantime a criminal investigator will be sent from the Burns Agency's New York office to prosecute the investigation.

Colonel Felder gave out the following dispatch received from Raymond J. Burns, son of William J. Burns, in New York, which tells of the father's determination to take up the Phagan mystery.

Felder still in Europe. Burns returned about June 1. He consents to take charge of Phagan investigation immediately upon his return. He suggests I send a good criminal investigator to start investigation immediately before Burns gets too cold.

Colonel Felder declared his assurance confidence in Burns' ability to clear up the Phagan mystery and to light the person or persons guilty of the murder.

Think Fund Can Be Relied.

He declared that his action in securing the generous donations of friends of the Phagan girl and other people who have interested themselves in the case. Colonel Felder himself has turned over to the fund the fee paid his legal firm to assist in the prosecution.

And now, with the subscriptions well under way, he declared, the public-spirited citizens of the city, by popular subscription, would be asked to make up the shortage.

Colonel Felder's statement in full is as follows:

Statement by Felder.

The time is at hand when I deem it not only proper, but necessary, that I take the public into my confidence relative to the further proposed investigation of the Phagan murder case.

My firm was employed by neighbors and friends of the deceased shortly after the crime was committed in aid in the preparation of the case and the prosecution thereof.

Without intending to reflect in the slightest degree upon the vigilance of the Atlanta police, who seem to be doing their utmost to ferret out the mystery, it occurred to me that the magnitude of the crime justified an effort to secure the services of William J. Burns, a man of such a record of successes covering a period of 30 years or more and without a single failure charged against him.

Woman Aid in Move.

A committee of prominent women of the city, including Mrs. W. J. Burns, had gathered for their purpose to work, called upon me, securing me that funds sufficient to cover the expenses of Burns' investigation could be raised by public subscription. I assured, these good women, my willingness to contribute our fee, and some $25,000.

BURNS COMING TO SOLVE THE PHAGAN CASE.

I feel that those interested in seeing justice vindicated, by fixing this crime upon the guilty parties, will appreciate and thank me for the efforts of the good women who have interested themselves in this work, falls far short of the amount required to carry it forward.

Public Asked to Donate. The public is therefore invited to contribute to the fund. At the conclusion of the work an itemized statement of receipts and disbursements in this behalf will be published by the press of the city for the information of the subscribers to the fund.

In conclusion I desire to say that in what I am doing I have the approval of the Solicitor General, Hon. Hugh M. Dorsey, who will appreciate and thank me for the information and direct all work in this behalf.

THOMAS B. FIDLER, For Mrs. Anderson, Dillon & Whitman. Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey said that he expected no developments along the line of a new arrest, but had there been anything at all in the case that would lead him to change his mind he would not hesitate to do so.

There is absolutely nothing new in the case. It had Thursday morning interest in evidence has not been made public. Our investigation has been extensive, and some rather important points have been brought out since the Coroner's inquest, but there is nothing that could be called a revelation.

For the last two days our efforts have been directed toward getting the Coroner's inquest into a more corroborating what evidence we have.

ATLANTA BAPTIST OPPOSED TO UNION

Dr. Gray, at Southern Convention, Presents Report Antagonistic to Denominational Merger.

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—Delegates to the sixteenth annual Southern Baptist convention in session at religious leaders of other denominations to-day are discussing the anti-unionism plank in the formal report of Dr. H. D. Gray, of Atlanta, for the Board of Home Missions.

It is held that the union of churches should be based on the principle of their own faith. Union church efforts have failed and will fail. If the plan for the weakening of the denominational lines should succeed, it would be in a church union, not in a separation. If our people are brought to think that the things which are of their fathers' worthiness, they will be the things which are of their fathers' worthiness.

BOY KILLED BY BROTHER

Hartman Boone, 13 years of age, shot his brother Thursday afternoon accidentally and killed his 6-year-old brother, Irwin, who was immediately rushed to the hospital. The boy was shot through the neck with a bullet from a parlor rifle. The bullet vein was severed and he died instantly. His brother is said to have dropped the rifle, and as he picked it up from the ground, it discharged.

The two boys are sons of T. A. Boone, of the Boyd Printing Company, who was immediately notified of the tragedy and hurried home. He was immediately notified of the tragedy and hurried home. He was immediately notified of the tragedy and hurried home.

BURNS WILL HUNT MARY PHAGAN'S SLAYER

Noted Detective Himself Coming to Atlanta to Solve Police Mystery.

Colonel Thomas H. Felder, noted Atlanta lawyer, Thursday issued the positive statement that William J. Burns would take charge of the Phagan investigation immediately upon his return from Europe, June 1.

In the meantime a criminal investigator will be sent from the Burns Agency's New York office to prosecute his investigation.

Colonel Felder gave out the following dispatch received from Raymond J. Burns, son of William J. Burns, in New York, which tells of the father's determination to take up the Phagan mystery.

Father still in Europe. Returns about June 1. He consents to take charge of Phagan investigation immediately upon his return. He suggests I send a good criminal investigator to start investigation immediately before same gets too cold.

Colonel Felder declared his supreme confidence in Burns' ability to clear the Phagan mystery and bring to light the person or persons guilty of the murder.

My firm was employed by neighbors and friends of the deceased shortly after the crime was committed to aid in the preparation of the case and the prosecution thereof.

Without hesitating to reflect in the slightest degree upon the vigilant detectives engaged upon the case, who seem to be doing their utmost to ferret out the mystery, it occurred to me that the magnitude of the crime justified an effort to secure the services of William J. Burns, a man with a record of successful covering a period of 20 years or more--and without a single failure charged against him.

Wm. J. Burns in New York. Statement by Felder. Felder used for their philanthropic work, called upon him for assistance that funds sufficient to cover the expenses of Burns' investigation could be raised by public subscription. I assured these good men of my willingness to contribute my fee, and some $10,000.
