and floor. She was alone. He quickly stunned her with a blow over the head. The defense will suggest, and topped her down the elevator shaft, taking her purse and later disposing of her body.

Conley described at length his alleged conversation with Frank in the factory office after 1 o'clock. Frank says that he arrived home for lunch at 1:20 o'clock and he is surprised in this statement by the fact that seven witnesses are present to testify that Frank was home in the evening at the time he is said to have been telephoning to Mrs. Anna Foran, asking her for her address to bring a girl to her home.

It is accepted that Mrs. Priscilla was killed in the afternoon, the defense will hold that the time of death will be pointed out that she may whether he be ignorant of important would not in the first place.

COOK'S SENSATIONAL AFFIDAVIT

FAM NAMED IN VICE OF
 VISITOR

Police Commissioner Accused Before Grand Jury of Brawl in Disorderly House.

As a climax of revelations made before the Grand Jury in its probe of vice conditions in Atlanta, Police Commissioner William F. Fain was named as the central figure in a sensational case to have been held in a house on Ivy Street some months ago according to evidence presented at the Wednesday afternoon session.

Mr. Fain was also accused of brutally treating one of the women in the party. When the police answered the woman's screams and raised the place, it was said that Fain was arrested, but was immediately released by order of a man high up in police circles.

The startling information was given the Grand Jury by a real estate operator and friend of Fain's who was summoned by the tribunal to give testimony.

Whisky For Resorts.

Before the witness left the hearing, it is declared that he had been one of the most sensational stories of vice ever brought to light in this city. That the Grand Jury will probably probe to the bottom of it, and that its verdict will be given in the next few days, is taken for granted.

Another witness at the afternoon hearing was J. E. Skags, agent for the Southern Express Company. Mr. Skags was asked to testify as to shipments of whisky and other liquors into Atlanta to places of ill-fame.

Chief Beavers also was called before the Grand Jury during the afternoon session. The police official is reported to have told the jurors that to his knowledge Atlanta was better morally at this time than ever before. The chief will be called again later in the investigation.

Chief Beavers Cleared.

Elimination of Chief of Police Beavers from all charges of graft and corruption in the Police Department, made by Colonel Thomas B. Feider, marked the second day's probe by the Fulton County Grand Jury.

Colonel Feider made this distinction to Chief Beavers personally, and to so doing renewed his accusations against Chief of Detectives Newport A. Lanford.

At the same time it was said evidence of corruption money being paid to the police had been given the Grand Jury.

There was a dramatic situation in the ante-room to the Grand Jury room when Feider, Beavers and Lanford confronted each other. Many hot words were flung back and forth.

"I want to say to you right here," declared Feider to the police chief, "that I have never made one single charge of graft against you. I do not desire the bribery charges the police department and counter-accusations growing out of their dictograph explanation."

Colonel Feider appeared before the tribunal at his morning session and demanded that the dictograph copy be produced to back rock. The attorney based his demand upon his own desire for exoneration of the sensational accusations. He declared to the jurors that the charges were absolutely false and the result of an

County Gets Bill For Phagan Burial

A bill for the burial of Mary Phagan provoked considerable debate at the meeting of the County Commissioners Wednesday. The bill was for $15 and was submitted by Undertaker W. S. Brock.

Commissioner Clifford Anderson said that he believed Coroner Deneho should be censured for approving the bill before it had been submitted to the Commission. Mr. Anderson admitted that the circumstances were such that the bill should not be allowed, only that it should have come before the Commission before it was approved by the Coroner.

Painter Was Refused Policies Business Plans Suffered Check

E. O. PAINTER, Jacksonville fertilizer man, whose death in the St. Johns River is being investigated by insurance companies because of the fact that he had taken out over $1,000,000 life insurance in four months preceding his death.

Theory Offered That He Needed More Insurance to Protect Stockholders.

By COLE E. MORGAN.
 JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 4.—Edward Oke Painter's family and intimate friends positively state their belief that his death in the St. Johns River on May 22 was accidental and not premeditated or due to mental aberration, as he is alleged in Jacksonville.

They declare his business was in excellent condition, his home life ideal and that he had no cause to seek and destruction.

The likelihood of insurance salesmen to write policies because he was considered an excellent risk, and because a spirited competition among insurance rivals had ensued this spring, are the explanations offered for his taking out a million dollars of new insurance since February 1.

A persistent report in insurance and business circles to-day, explaining the probable motive for suicide, is that Painter had been checked in financial plans he had under way when insurance companies refused to issue additional policies on his life within a week before his death.

According to this report, Painter had launched plans to double the $500,000 book value capital stock and surplus of the E. O. Painter Fertilizer Company to $1,000,000 by the sale of a new stock issue. It is said he proposed to increase Holdings, the company's operations, not only in the United States, but in the West Indian Islands and South America, where the company already has holdings, to be prepared to extend operations upon the completion of the Panama Canal.

An explanation of the million dollar new insurance, much of which was made payable to the company and the rest to his estate and family, is suggested in that this would give

SAYS SHE HEARD FRANK'S WIFE TELL MOTHER FRANK HAD THREATENED SUICIDE

Incoherent Statement by Employee of Frank Household That Must Not Be Taken as Legal Evidence Until Heard and Corroborated in Court.

Another sensational but strangely incoherent affidavit in the Mary Phagan mystery was made public this afternoon when the police gave out what purports to be a startling statement sworn to by Minola McKnight, negro cook in the Frank household, who was grilled for two hours at police headquarters Tuesday.

The statement quotes the McKnight woman as declaring that she overheard Mrs. Leo Frank tell her mother that Frank had talked of murder and had threatened to get a gun and shoot himself.

The Georgian informs its readers once again that police affidavits are not evidence until they have been accepted in court, and that judgment as to their reliability should be withheld until then.

Statement of Negroes in Full

The McKnight woman's statement is given for what it is worth as follows:
STATE OF GEORGIA—County of Fulton:
 Personally appeared before me, a Notary Public in and for the above State and County, Minola McKnight, who lives in the rear of 351 Pulliam Street, Atlanta, Ga., who, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

Saturday morning, April 26, 1913, Mr. Frank left home about 8 o'clock, and Albert, my husband, was there Saturday too; Albert got there I guess about a quarter after 1, and was there when Mr. Frank came for dinner, which was about half past one, but Mr. Frank did not eat any dinner and he left in about ten minutes after he got there.

Mr. Frank come back to the house at 7 o'clock that night, and Albert was there when he got there. Albert had gone home that evening but he come back, but I don't know what time he got there, but he come sometime before Mr. Frank did, and Mr. Frank eat supper that night about 7 o'clock, and when left about 8 o'clock I left Mr. Frank there.

Sunday morning I got there about 8 o'clock, and there was an automobile standing in front of the house, but I didn't pay any attention to it, but I saw a man in the automobile get a bucket of water and pour into it. Miss Lucile (Mr. Frank's wife) was downstairs, and Mr. and Mrs. Selig were upstairs. Albert was there Sunday morning, but I don't remember what time he got there. When I called them down to breakfast about half-past 8 I found that Mr. Frank was gone. Mr. and Mrs. Selig eat breakfast and Miss Lucile didn't eat until Mr. Frank came back and they eat breakfast together. I didn't hear them say anything at the breakfast table, but after dinner I understood them to say that a girl and Mr. Frank were caught at the office Saturday. I don't know who said it, but Miss Lucile and Mr. and Mrs. Selig and Mr. Frank were standing there talking after dinner. I didn't know the girl was killed until Monday evening. I understood them to say it was a Jew girl, and I asked Miss Lucile and she said it was a Gentile.

Frank Said: "It's Mighty Bad"

On Tuesday Mr. Frank says to me: "It is mighty bad, Minola, I might have to go to jail about this girl and I don't know anything about it."

I heard Mrs. Razin, Mrs. Frank's sister, tell Miss Lucile that it was mighty bad, and Miss Lucile said, "Yes, it is; I am going to get her about this." I don't know what they were talking about.

Sunday Miss Lucile said to Mr. Selig that Mr. Frank didn't sleep so good Saturday night. She said he was drunk and wouldn't let her sleep with him, and she said she slept on the floor on the night of the bad because he was drinking. Miss Lucile said Sunday that Mr. Frank told her Saturday night that he was in trouble, that he didn't know the reason why he would murder, and he told his wife to get his pistol and let him kill himself. I heard Miss Lucile say that to Mrs. Selig. I got away with Mrs. Selig mighty bad, she didn't know what to think. I haven't heard Miss Lucile say whether she believed it or not. I don't know why Mrs. Frank didn't come to see her husband, but it was a pretty good while before she came to see him, maybe two weeks. She would tell me, "Wan't it mighty bad that he was locked up?" and she said: "Minola, I don't know what I am going to do."

When I left home to go to the Solicitor General's office they told me to mind how I talked. They pay me $3.50 a week, but last week they paid me $4, and one week they paid me $6.50. Up to the time of the murder I was getting $3.50 a week, and the week right after the murder I don't remember how much they paid me, and the next week they paid me $3.50, and the next week they paid me $6.50, and the next week they paid me $4, and the next week $4.

One week Mrs. Selig give me $5, but it wasn't for my work, and they didn't tell me what it was for.

After just said, "Here is $5, Minola," but, of course, I understood what they meant, but they didn't tell me anything at the

10-DAY MARCH IN HALF-HOLIDAY PARADE

Bands, Vehicles to Trade and Happy Clerks in Five-Mile 'Emancipation' Pageant.

The unimpaired parade of the retail grocers and market men, marking the beginning of the Wednesday afternoon holidays for the employees of the members of the Retail Grocers and Market Men Association, started with a blare of trumpets Wednesday afternoon. Over 100 retail grocers and market men, in their own cars, lined their doors for the afternoon, and the holiday spirit is rife among the 10,000 participants in the five-mile parade.

The parade began to form at 1:30 p. m. at the corner of Washington and East Mitchell streets, and at 2 o'clock the march began down Washington Street to East Park, where it turned into Brotherton street to North and down Whitehall and Peachtree to North Avenue. The parade then marched into West Peachtree and back up to West Baker Street, where they were welcomed by the grand marshals, assistant grand marshals and aides. After the review the line of march was to Five Points, where the parade disbanded.

At the head of the parade came the city policemen, followed by the grand marshals of the day, Harry Schuler, George C. G. Peabody, and D. N. McLaughlin. They were followed by an auto truck carrying the Grand Marshal Band, playing popular airs. Behind the band came the grand marshals and their aides, followed by the grand marshals of the year's holiday committee, escorted by Chief Alderman and their assistants, Messrs. Phillips, J. A. Wood, C. A. Hays and J. C. Buchanan, followed by the grand marshals of the year's holiday committee, escorted by Chief Alderman and their assistants, Messrs. Phillips, J. A. Wood, C. A. Hays and J. # STRANGE AFFAIR FRANK BY FRANK'S COOK

While police activities have been terrific this line of investigation, the negro sweater, Jim Conley, has been given a real. Chief of Detectives Lantford stated that the negro would be quizzed to more.

Cook Counted on by Defense.

"If he has not told the whole truth," said the chief, "we will send for me within the next few days. I believe."

The cook is one of the five witnesses upon whom the defense is relying to prove that Frank returned home for luncheon at 1:20 o'clock the Saturday afternoon of the murder, and that he therefore could not have been in the office dictating the notes at 12 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Selig and Mrs. Frank will be three of the other witnesses called by the defense to prove the time Frank arrived home from the factory on the fatal day. An acquaintance with all of the witnesses, Campbell Street, and an acquaintance with the deck and drug hardware store, were sent into the room with her to see that she was ready for trial at that time.

Frank's Cook Was Counted Upon As Defense Witness

The detectives attached the greatest importance to her affidavit, in the hope of breaking her down. Ernest H. Pickett, of 236 Bay Street, who is the brother of Frank Campbell Street, and an acquaintance with the deck and drug hardware store, were sent into the room with her to see that she was ready for trial at that time.

Alibi Big Obstacle.

Unable to break through the alibi furnished by the defendant's movements will be accounted for practically every moment of the day of the tragedy.

At about 12:35 in the afternoon, it is believed, the door of the factory was opened by the cook, who was seen by the witness, Frank Campbell Street, who was seen by the witness, Frank Campbell Street, who was seen by the witness, Frank Campbell Street.

PAINTER DEATH MYSTERY INCREASED

Painter's death and affairs bearing on it will be brought out.

More Insurance Reported.

In addition to the $118,000 insurance carried by Painter, it is known that he bought $125,000 additional that he did not secure. A $50,000 policy was issued by the Equitable Life, but before it was delivered the agent here was instructed to hold it because Painter was over insured. This policy was taken to Painter the Saturday before his death, but he told the police to hold it on Monday, when he would give a check for the premium and accept it. Before it could be delivered on Monday a telegram came from the home office that it must not be delivered.

On April 12 a $50,000 application was made with the Traders. On May 15 the company appointed the applicant for six months.

His name was placed on the Florida Life for $25,000 insurance, the application was rejected by the company's medical director, the very morning Painter was drowned, because he was over weight. His blood pressure showed 160 in the medical examination.

On May 17 Painter asked the company to give him a receipt for premium notes that had accompanied his application. This was done. After his death the company offered to return the receipt, but the receipt was not returned. It is believed that the receipt was given back. This was refused at Painter's office.

Miss Orlie Painter, the dead man's only daughter and his namesake, as for several years occupied a position in his office, and has been one of the directing agents in the B. G. Painter Fertilizer Company. She is authority for the statement, speaking for the family, that he had no reason to want to die. She is typically a business woman.

She discusses the affair calmly and deliberately, with little of the emotion typical of her sex.

Miss Orlie Painter, a widow, is a wealthy business woman, but has not taken any part in the investigation of her father's death. She is directing the family's affairs, advising with Miss Painter upon matters concerning the family's interests.

A secret meeting of the stockholders was held yesterday afternoon. It is said a list of interested parties at this time was not declared because of Painter's death.

Painted a Self-made Man.

It is said that the insurance agents starting in business with a very limited education, but through his own efforts he has become a millionaire. He was a self-made man, and his success was due to his own efforts.

Widow of Diplomat Held as Auto Slayer

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., June 4.—Coroner Phelan, of Fairfield County, today began an investigation into the death of William Stewart, who was run down and killed by an automobile driven by Mrs. Stewart L. Woodford, widow of a United States minister, in the city of Bridgeport.

The investigation here is at a standstill. The insurance companies have refused to pay the claim pending the inquest. No additional money has been offered by the company to know what his company plans to do with the money in an unswayed to do as it pleased.

Felder Exonerates Beavers of Graft Charge Grand Jury Takes Up Colyar Bribery Accusation

Mayor James G. Woodward, leaving Grand Jury room after testifying in vice probe.

Thomas B. Felder, who exonerates Beavers of graft charges but declares war on Lanford.

More than an hour in which to present his case. While the evidence which he placed before the hearing was not revealed, Colonel Felder intimated that it included affidavits from persons who have paid corruption money to the police in substantiation of the Hitchcock list of resorts now in operation.

Just preceding the opening of the morning session of the Grand Jury, Chief Beavers, Solicitor Dorsey and Detective Chief Lanford were closeted in conference. It was at the beginning of this that Mr. Felder declared himself regarding his charges. The attorney interested in the case, said Mr. Felder, "I know you charged that the police had altered the dictograph record alleged to have been taken of his conversation with Colyar and February at the Williams House."

FAM NAMED IN QUIZ AS RESORT VISITOR

Police Commissioner Accused Before Grand Jury of Brawl in Disorderly House.

As a climax of revelations made before the Grand Jury in its probe of vice conditions in Atlanta, Police Commissioner William B. Fain was named as the central figure in a case said to have been held in a house on Ivy Street some months ago, according to evidence furnished by the Wednesday afternoon session.

Mr. Fain was also accused of brutally treating one of the women of the party. When the police answered the woman's screams and raided the place, it was said that Fain was arrested, but was immediately released by order of a man high in police circles.

This startling information was given the Grand Jury by a real estate operator and friend of Fain's who was summoned by the tribunal to give testimony.

Whiskey For Reports.

Before the witness left the hearing, it is declared that he had been one of the most sensational stories of vice ever brought to light in this city. That the Grand Jury will probably probe to the bottom of it, and that its verdict will be given in the next few days before any action is taken is assured.

Another witness at the afternoon hearing was J. E. Skags, agent for the Southern Express Company. Mr. Skags was asked to testify as to shipments of whiskey and other liquors into Atlanta to pieces of ill-fame.

Chief Beavers also was called before the Grand Jury during the afternoon session. The police official declared he had told the jurors that the vice traffic will be given the acid test before any action is taken is assured.

Tobacco Magnate's Donations to Trinity Pass Million Mark

DURHAM, N. C., June 4.—W. P. Few, president of Trinity College, at commencement exercises today announced new gifts to the college that will make the total endowment fund $1,185,000.

The places Trinity on an equal footing with any college in the South. The endowment is due in the main to the generosity of Benjamin N. Duke and James B. Duke, the tobacco kings, who have given to Trinity a total of $1,145,000.

The general education board of New York City gave $100,000, and the remainder was raised from small contributions of many people in all parts of the State, mainly coming from Methodist churches.

The late Washington Duke, who developed the cigarette industry, was the staunchest supporter the college ever had.

PAINTER MYSTERY DEEP Disappearance of Organs Unsolved Family Discredit Suicide Theory

E. O. PAINTER, Jacksonville fertilizer man, whose death in the St. Johns River is being investigated by insurance companies because of the fact that he had taken out over $1,000,000 life insurance in four months preceding his death.

Johns Hopkins Authorities Know Nothing of Loss of Parts of Body; Bonding Concern in Hunt.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—The mystery surrounding the death of E. O. Painter, the Jacksonville man, who was drowned after having in four months taken out one million dollars in life insurance, has been deepened Wednesday by the fact that nothing can be learned as to the disposal of the organs which had been hastily removed from Mr. Painter's body.

At the Johns Hopkins Hospital, where the heart, stomach and kidneys of the wealthy Floridian were to have been analyzed Saturday for evidence of poison, it is said that no word of their whereabouts has been received.

On the other hand, Redmond C. Stewart, a local real estate man, who is said to have made the arrangements for the stamping of the organs, declines to discuss the matter in any way.

Mysterious Slaying of Two Years Ago Is Revealed by Woman

A remarkable story of the alleged murder of a young man on the Chapel Road two years ago that never has been investigated, and of which no details ever became known, was told to Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford Wednesday morning by C. C. Daniels, once a railroad detective and now a contractor.

So great on impression did Daniels' story make on Chief Lanford that he has prepared to start an investigation.

Daniels said he got his information when he heard several women, guests of Mrs. Daniels, who he heard one of the women remark that there had been a murder on the Chapel Road two years ago that was never heard of.

According to the story she told, a young man was murdered by a man and his son in a row over a girl, and the body was buried in the woods just off the road. Later the murderer, so the story goes, returned the body and tried to burn it, and, failing in that, removed it elsewhere.

Daniels declares he did not learn the name of the man who is supposed to have been murdered, or the names of the murderers, Mrs. Lillian Flournoy, of Atlanta, he said, knows something of the affair. She will be questioned by the officers.

SAYS SHE HEARD FRANK'S WIFE TELL MOTHER FRANK HAD THREATENED SUICIDE

Incoherent Statement by Employee of Frank Household That Must Not Be Taken as Legal Evidence Until Heard and Corroborated in Court.

Another sensational but strangely incoherent affidavit in the Mary Phagan mystery was made public this afternoon when the police gave out what purports to be a startling statement sworn to by Minola McKnight, negro cook in the Frank household who was grilled for two hours at police headquarters Tuesday.

The statement quotes the McKnight woman as declaring that she overheard Mrs. Leo Frank tell her mother that Frank had talked of murder and had threatened to get a gun and shoot himself.

The Georgian informs its readers once again that police affidavits are not evidence until they have been accepted in court, and that judgment as to their reliability should be withheld until then.

The McKnight woman's statement is given for what it is worth as follows:

STATE OF GEORGIA—County of Fulton.

Personally appeared before me, a Notary Public in and for the above State and County, Minola McKnight, who lives in the rear of 351 Pulliam Street, Atlanta, Ga., who, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

Saturday morning, April 26, 1913, Mr. Frank left home about 8 o'clock, and Albert, my husband, was there Saturday too. Albert got there I guess about a quarter after 1, and was there when Mr. Frank came for dinner, which was about half past one, but Mr. Frank did not eat any dinner and he left in about ten minutes after he got there.

Mr. Frank came back to the house at 7 o'clock that night, and Albert was there when he got there. Albert had gone home that evening but he come back, but I don't know what time he got there, but he come sometime before Mr. Frank did, and Mr. Frank eat supper that night about 7 o'clock, and when I left about 8 o'clock I left Mr. Frank there.

Sunday morning I got there about 8 o'clock, and I there was an automobile standing in front of the house, but I didn't pay any attention to it, but I saw a man in the automobile get a bucket of water and pour into it. Miss Lucile (Mr. Frank's wife) was downstairs, and Mr. and Mrs. Selig were upstairs. Albert was there Sunday morning, but I don't remember what time he got there. When I called them down to breakfast about half-past 8 I found that Mr. Frank was gone. Mr. and Mrs. Selig eat breakfast and Miss Lucile didn't eat until Mr. Frank came back and they eat breakfast together. I didn't hear them say anything at the breakfast table, but after dinner I understood them to say that a girl and Mr. Frank were caught at the office Saturday. I don't know who said it, but Miss Lucile and Mr. and Mrs. Selig and Mr. Frank were standing there talking after dinner. I didn't know the girl was killed until Monday evening. I understood them to say it was a Jew girl, and I asked Miss Lucile and she said it was a Gentile.

On Tuesday Mr. Frank says to me: "It is mighty bad Minola, I might have to go to jail about this girl and I don't know anything about it."

I heard Mrs. Rauxin, Mr. Frank's sister, tell Miss Lucile that it was mighty bad, and Miss Lucile said, "Yes, it is; I am going to get after her about it." I don't know what they were talking about.

Sunday Miss Lucile said to Mr. Selig that Mr. Frank didn't sleep so good Saturday night. She said he was drunk and wouldn't let her sleep with him, and she said she slept on the floor on the rug by the bed because he was drinking. Miss Lucile said Sunday that Mr. Frank told her Saturday night that he was in trouble; that he didn't know the reason why he would murder, and he told his wife to get his pistol and let him kill himself. I heard Miss Lucile say that to Mrs. Selig. I got away with Mrs. Selig nighty night, she didn't know what to think. I haven't heard Miss Lucile say whether she believed it or not. I don't know why Mrs. Frank didn't come to see her husband, but it was a pretty good while before she come to see him, maybe two weeks. She would tell me, "Wasn't it mighty bad that he was looked up?" and she said: "Minola, I don't know what I am going to do."

When I left home to go to the Solicitor General's office they told me to mind how I talked. They pay me $8.50 a week, but last week she paid me $4, and one week she paid me $6.00. Up to the time of the murder I was getting $3.50 a week, and the week right

Atlanta Woman in Umbrella Battle

MACON, GA., June 4.—Because Mrs. Leola Collins objected to Mrs. Louise Miller, of Atlanta, one of the boarders, coming in at late hours of the night, and also because she recently treated one of the boarders, the privilege of seeing Mrs. Miller at midnight, such a lively time resulted in the Vineville Station neighborhood that the police were called.

Barnhill smashed an umbrella over Mrs. Collins' head, in the police court hearing, Mrs. Miller testified that she looked on and laughed during the whole proceeding.

Militants Dynamite, Then Burn, Mansion

SPECIAL Cable to The Atlanta Georgian, TROWBRIDGE, ENGLAND, June 4.—Explosives estimated between $75,000 and $100,000 was done at Westwood, a suburb, to-day by militants who burned an unoccupied manor house.

The old mansion, which was one of the historic spots of the neighborhood, evidently was taken by a powerful dynamite explosion. Residents of the neighborhood heard a loud detonation.

Ask U. S. Control of Cotton Shipments

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Chairman Adamson, of the House Interstate Commerce Committee, will call his committee together this week, he said today, to frame a bill for uniform regulations governing the shipment of cotton in interstate commerce.

Losses by the producers in sampling, lack of uniformity in railroad regulations governing baling and lack of uniformity in tare charges are among the abuses which the proposed legislation is designed to correct.

$40,000,000 Urged For Alaskan Roads

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A compilation of estimates of the cost of a bill providing for a bond issue of $40,000,000 for the construction by the Government of railroads in Alaska, will be urged at the present session of Congress, according to a statement made today by Senator Pittman, chairman of the Senate committee on Territories.

The new measure was framed by a sub-committee composed of Senators Pittman, Chamberlain and Jones.

Financial Morals of U. S. Scored in Paris

PARIS, June 4.—The bitterness against American securities is far from abating. The Journal des Debats, after reviewing the series of disapprobations Paris investors have suffered, says:

"American financial morals make us deeply suspicious of anything depending upon New York particularly dangerous. American bankers have the idea, accepted as perfectly legitimate there, that ability only counts in business."

HEAD OF MERCER QUITS SCHOOL BY REQUEST

MACON, GA., June 4.—Following the demand of the board of trustees for his resignation, the Rev. S. Y. Jamison, president of Mercer University, will resign. His contract calls for one more year.

Three members of the prudential committee—E. Y. Mallary, Andrew W. Lane and A. J. Adams, of Macon—have tendered their resignations. They, too, were asked to resign.

A special committee reported that there was an entire lack of harmony at Mercer, and that especially was true friction between President Jamison and the prudential committee. The Rev. E. C. Dargan, chairman of the board and president in the past to oust Dr. Jamison, last night introduced a resolution calling for the resignation of the conflicting parties, and it was passed 19 to 3.

The commencement exercises of Mercer were held this morning, and dignitaries presented to 76 young men.

Collapse of Trestle Kills Bridgeworker

W. H. Tate, a bridgeworker, was crushed in the collapse of a trestle at Lidgah's Crossing, near Atlanta, Wednesday morning. He died as he was being taken to Grady Hospital in an automobile. Tate's home was in Greenville, Ga.

The men had been working only a short time Wednesday when one of the sections of the trestle gave way. Tate was hurled to the ground and a mass of steel fell on him.

Blood Stains Clew to Mysterious Shooting

The police are investigating blood stains in Ponce DeLeon Avenue, near Bonaventure, following a report that an unknown white man was shot during the night in that vicinity.

The trail of blood extended for three blocks. In one place a pool of blood indicated how the wounded man lay down to regain strength, or had lain down to regain strength, or had lain down to regain strength.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast—Local thunder-showers Wednesday and Thursday.

FAMILY OF PAINTER SAY HE HAD NO REASON FOR SUICIDE

By COLLE E. MORGAN, JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 4.—Edward Oke Painter's family and intimates positively state their belief that his death in the St. Johns River on May 21 was accidental and not premeditated or due to mental aberration, as is talked in Jacksonville.

They declare his business was in excellent condition, his home life ideal, and that he had no cause to seek self-destruction.

"The insurance of insurance salesmen to write policies, because he was considered an excellent risk, and because a settled competitor among insurance rivals had caused the spring, are the explanations offered for his taking out a million dollars of new insurance since February 1.

More insurance reported.

In an affidavit sworn to by the insurance carrier by Painter, it is known that he sought $128,000 additional that he did not secure. A $50,000 policy was issued by U. Equitable life, but before it was given the agent here was instructed to hold it because Painter was over insured. This policy was taken to Painter the Saturday before his death, but he told the agent to hold it until Monday, when he would give a check for the premium and accept it. Before it could be delivered on Monday a telegram came from the home office that it must not be delivered.

On April 15 a $100,000 application was made with the Travelers. On May 17, Painter applied to the Florida Life for $128,000 insurance, the application was rejected by the company's medical director by the morning. Painter was depressed, because he was over weight. His blood pressure showed 160 in the medical examination.

On May 17 Painter asked the company to give him a receipt for premium notes that he had secured. After his death the company offered to return the notes, requesting that the company's receipt be given back. This was refused at Painter's office.

Miss Oke Painter, the dead man's wife, said that her husband has for several years occupied a position in the office, and has been one of the directing spirits in the E. O. Painter Fertilizer Company. She is authority for the statement, speaking for the family, that he had no reason to want to die, she is typically a business woman.

She discusses the affair calmly and

New Throat Disease Has Europe Puzzled

SPECIAL Cable to The American, LONDON, June 4.—Physicians in many parts of England and France are puzzled by the spread of a mysterious throat complaint, the chief symptom of which is a dimmy exhalation from the tonsils or at the back of the throat. It has caused several deaths.

The complications include erysipelas, high temperature and weakness of the heart action. Some physicians are inclined to believe that it is a non-typical form of scarlet fever or measles, but it has not been proved.

The advertisement says:

"It is probably like the rural doctor who was given his first punch by his city host.

"My dear sir," he said, you ought to thank God every day of your life for having a cow that will give such milk."

"O. K'd by T. B." Is Liquor Ad Caption

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., June 4.—"O. K'd by T. B." is the daring announcement of a local liquor firm in today's Springfield papers in offering to the public "milk punch, rare old Madeira wine and mint juleps." The slogan is in its type an inch high and extends across five columns.

The heading "milk punch" the advertisement says:

"It is probably like the rural doctor who was given his first punch by his city host.

"My dear sir," he said, you ought to thank God every day of your life for having a cow that will give such milk."

J. Ham Lewis Fined For Not Paying Tax

CHICAGO, June 4.—The names of two of the State's highest officials were written today upon the list of penalized taxpayers.

Governor Edward F. Dunne and United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis were assessed for personal property estimated by an assessor. The names of the two men were the same as in the case of ordinary taxpayers who forget to schedule their property.

Governor Dunne's assessment, including the $60 cent penalty, was fixed at $1,600. Senator Lewis must pay on $6750. William Lorimer's assessment was fixed at $9,500 and a $3000 penalty was added.

Money Magnates to Reveal Wage Scales

CHICAGO, June 4.—The powers of finance in Chicago, including a number of bankers, to-day were subpoenaed to appear before the Illinois Senate White Slave Committee and tell about the wages of men employed in their institutions. The financiers will appear before the committee.

The committee is investigating statements that many men in Chicago do not earn enough to support a family.

10,000 MARCH IN HALF-HOLIDAY PARADE

Bands, Vehicles of Trade and Happy Clerks in Five-Mile 'Emancipation' Pageant.

The mammoth parade of the retail grocers and market men, marking the beginning of the Wednesday afternoon holiday for the employees of the members of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' Association, started with a band of trumpets Wednesday afternoon. Over 100 retail grocers and market men of Atlanta closed their doors for the afternoon, and the holiday spirit is rife among the 10,000 participants in the big event.

The parade began to form at 1:30 p. m. at the corner of Washington and East Mitchell streets, and at 2 o'clock the march began down Washington street to East Fair, where it turned into Brotherton street to Whitehall and down Whitehall and Peachtree to North Avenue.

At the head of the parade came the city policemen, followed by the grand marshals of the day, Harry L. Schlegel and D. S. McCullough. They were followed by an auto truck carrying the Fifth Regiment Band, playing popular music. Behind the band were Mayor Woodruff and the members of last year's holiday committee in automobiles.

Next came the wagons of this year's holiday committee, escorted by Alder Cowan and Mayor's and their assistants, Messrs. Phillips, J. A. Wood, W. P. Hubbs, G. H. Buchanan, and followed by a band of brass and woodwind instruments. The March College band, headed by H. Wolberg, and his orchestra, were in the rear. The grocers' and marketmen's wagons, next in line, were in the middle, with the grocers' representatives, escorted by Chief Alder J. J. Burton and a corps of aides, the district attorney, the club band, numerous floats of the commission men and jobbers, under the escort of Chief Alder J. P. McNair, and Messrs. J. M. Harris, Willie Helmsman and Miller M. White, and the grocers' band, leading the wagons of the grocers and marketmen, which were under the escort of Chief Alder J. M. Harris, and Messrs. N. Willis, L. C. Thompson and W. E. Baldwin.

The Atlanta and Montgomery ball teams were brought to Atlanta especially for to-day. The game was not to begin until 4 o'clock. The ball club made a flat donation toward the entertainment, and the association will get a percentage of the gate receipts on June 11.

STRANGE AFFIDAVIT IS BROUGHT BY FRANK'S COOK

Continued From Page 1. After the murder I don't remember how much they paid me, and the next week they paid me $4, and the next week $4.

Q. Was Mrs. Selig given me $5, but it wasn't for my work, and they didn't tell me what it was for. They just said, "Here is $5, Minola," but, of course, I understood what they meant, but they didn't tell me anything at all. I understood that it was a tip for me to keep quiet. They would tell me to mind how I talked, and Miss Lucile give me a hat.

Q. Is that the reason you didn't tell the solicitor yesterday all about this, that Miss Lucile and the others had told you not to say anything about what had happened at home there? A. Yes, sir. Q. Is that true? A. Yes, sir. Q. And that is the reason why you would rather have been locked up last night than tell this? A. Yes, sir. Q. Was Mr. Pickett or Mr. Cravens or Mr. Campbell or myself (Detective Starnes) influenced you in any way or threatened you in any way to make this statement? A. No, sir.

Sworn to and subscribed to before me this 2d day of June, 1913. M. MINOLA M'KNIGHT. G. C. FEBRUARY. White police activities have been turned to this line of investigation, the negro aviator, Jim Conley, has again been a rest. Chief of Detectives Lanford stated that the negro would be out in no more.

deliberately, with little of the emotion typical of a trial. State Senator J. B. secret meeting of the stockholders was held yesterday afternoon. It is said a 15 cent dividend planned at this time was not declared because of Painter's death.

Painted a Self-made Man.

Painter was a self-made man, a contractor in business with a very limited education. As his daughter grew up he gave her a liberal education and depended on her when he was disabled. Painter was a real leader in Florida and Jacksonville. His work was accepted without question. As an evidence of his popularity he was elected one of the Jacksonville port commissioners in a recent election, receiving the third highest vote among fifteen candidates. This was his first political contest. He headed the Board of Trade's foreign committee. Last December he represented Jacksonville at the Panama Trade Conference held in Atlanta. He was active in charity enterprises, his favorite being the children's Home Society.

It is said that one condition he exacted of the insurance agents who wrote his recent policies was that a percentage of the premiums go to this society of which he was secretary. The Painter case has brought to light a peculiar phase of Florida law. There is practically no penalty prescribed for the mutilation of a dead body before it is in the custody of the Coroner. The only punishment imposed is a misdemeanor for interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duties. Consequently, anyone who performed or instigated the hasty burial of a dead body without the Coroner's jury had seen it, but it is all intended with no view to their identification.

LaGrange-Wesleyan Union Plan Dropped

LA GRANGE, GA., June 4.—The board of trustees of the LaGrange Female College last night dropped negotiations looking to the merger of the college with Wesleyan University. Dr. A. M. Perry, representing the faculty of Wesleyan, said he is the proper one to receive the college on the side of the trustees. Coroner Abbott's authority in this body was recovered on the South side of the river at Jacksonville. Other coroners has jurisdiction there, but it was not until today that all parties were notified. An investigation here is at a standstill. The insurance companies are now doing practically nothing pending the inquest verdict. No additional lawyer professions to know what his company plans to do and the mystery is as to why today was a week or more ago.

GIRL STICKS TO STORY OF ALKING FRANK

Her Narrative Believed to Bear Out Alibi Claim Defense Will Try to Prove.

Developments in the Phagan case Wednesday indicated that the detectives are bending all their energies to break down the strong alibi which has been established by the testimony of various persons who saw Leo Frank on the day the girl was murdered.

While it is understood that the negro woman, in spite of the rapid fire of questions of which she was made the target for more than two hours, maintained substantially the same story that she told when arrested on Saturday night, the detective appear to reach great importance to her at present. In the hope of breaking her down, Ernest H. Pickett, of 215 Harrison Street, and Roy L. Craven, 11 Campbell Street, both employed at the Beck & Gregg hardware store, were sent into the room with her for questioning.

Albert McKnight, husband of Minnie, also works for the Beck & Gregg concern, and is said to have told Pickett and Craven that his wife had confided to him that Frank did not arrive home at the time he testified before the coroner's jury. The two men informed the officers of McKnight's statement, and as a result the woman was arrested. She was taken first before Solicitor Dorsey, who she hysterically denied that she ever had made such remarks to her husband. She declared that she had had a "tuss" with her husband, and that he was taking this means to get her into trouble.

The story she told before the two Beck & Gregg men is understood to be specifically the same, but the woman evidently varied sufficiently from her original story to lead the detectives to regard her testimony as valuable and significant. It was taken down in the form of a statement and later was signed and sworn to.

Unless the State is able to break down the alibi furnished by the McKnight woman, the factory superintendent's statements will be accounted for practically every moment on the day of the tragedy.

WOMEN ARE CALLED TO TELL OF VICE

Grand Jury to Hear Testimony of Proprietors of Houses Named by Colonel Felder.

A score of women have been summoned to testify before the Grand Jury in the sensational vice probe just begun.

Carl Hutcheon's list of 30 places given to the Grand Jury in its opening session was used as a witness list for the session of that body Wednesday.

A great many of the women whose names appeared as conducting the houses in his list, or hotel proprietors who the young attorney alleged were paying for police protection, were arrested, subpoenaed, and arranged with the solicitor's office for the session.

The list still is in the hands of the foreman. On it also are the names of persons whom it is alleged will make affidavits, or testify, that the allegations of the attorney are true.

Foreman Beck, who is conducting the probe independently of the State prosecuting attorney, intimated before going into the executive session Wednesday morning that the probe would be one of the most extensive a Fulton grand jury ever has conducted.

More than likely, he said, "I will embody the result of our investigation in the presentment and return it to Judge W. D. Ellis, who charges us so specifically to investigate vice conditions, when it is possible, if the officers want to carry the matter further, it can take the customary course through the police or State officers."

Not Taking Up Bribery Row. The names of witnesses handed the foreman by Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford have not been summoned. They are said to know of the dispositive evidence and the alleged bribery attempt on the part of Colonel Felder.

Mr. Beck made it plain that while the matter would have to be presented by the solicitor and that the Grand Jury was only investigating the vice conditions.

Colonel Thomas H. Felder was one of the first witnesses to be called. He was given the jury. He said it would be his duty to tell what he knew of the facts that were furnished by Carl Hutcheon's list.

Chief Lanford many more. Among the first arrivals in court, Judge Swann was anxious to go back to the jury and tell what he knew of the facts.

Nothing will come of the charges of corruption in my department.

E. O. PAINTER'S FAMILY DENY SUICIDE; AGENTS ARE AWAITING INQUEST

No Move Yet Made by Insurance Companies to Contest Payment of More Than Million Dollars on the Death of Jacksonville Fertilizer Man.

By COLE E. MORGAN.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., June 4.—Edward Okie Painter's family and intimate friends positively state their belief that his death in the St. Johns River on May 22 was accidental and not premeditated or due to mental aberration as is talked in Jacksonville.

"They declare his business was in excellent condition, his home life ideal, and that he had no cause to seek self-destruction. The insistence of insurance salesmen to write policies, because he was considered an excellent risk, and because a spirited competition among insurance rivals had created this spring, are the explanations offered for his taking out a million dollars of new insurance since February 1.

Miss Okie Painter, the dead man's only daughter and his namesake, has for several years occupied a position in his office, and has been one of the directing spirits in the E. O. Painter Fertilizer Company. She is authority for the statement, speaking for the family, that he had no reason to want to die. She is typically a business woman.

She discusses the affair calmly and deliberately, with little of the emotion typical of her sex. State Senator J. B. Conrad, of Glenwood, a wealthy banker, has been named acting president of the fertilizer company, but has not taken charge, being engaged in the legislative session at Tallahassee. In the meantime D. A. Morrison, Jr., secretary, is directing the company's affairs, advising with Miss Painter upon matters concerning the family's interest.

A secret meeting of the stockholders was held yesterday afternoon. It is said a 15 per cent dividend planned at this time was not declared because of Painter's death.

No Word From Baltimore

Thus far Coroner G. D. Abbott has heard nothing of the results of the analysis ordered in Baltimore. He has directed that the report be sent to him through the Barnet National Bank, while Dr. P. C. Berry, representing the family, has contended that he is the proper one to receive it. He is now in Baltimore.

Coroner Abbott's authority in this case has been questioned because the body was recovered on the South Jacksonville side of the river and another coroner has jurisdiction there.

But it was landed on the Jacksonville side, and that reason Coroner Abbott was notified. The coroner's jury that viewed the remains of the body only after the autopsy was performed has had but one meeting since the day of death, and is awaiting the report from Baltimore.

The investigation here is at a standstill. The insurance companies are now doing practically nothing pending the inquest verdict. No adjuster here professes to know where his company's plans do and the mystery is as unswayed to-day as it was a week or more ago.

KING AND QUEEN IN THRONGS AT THE DERBY

Record Crowd Swarms to Espom Downs for Greatest British Turf Event.

ESPOM, ENGLAND, June 4.—A record crowd swarmed Espom Downs to-day for the running of the Derby, the crowning classic of the British turf. Among them were many American tourists who had hoped that they might vent their patriotism in betting upon a horse owned by a citizen of the United States. In this, however, they were disappointed, for the only American-owned horse, Richard Croker's Knight's Key, was scratched.

The weather is brilliant and the track hard and fast. The three favorites, in order named, were C. Bowyer's Jemmy's Crisp, D. K. Brown's Shogun and W. R. Bapha's Lovers. King George, who entered four horses in the blue ribbon event, and Queen Mary traveled from London, accompanied by a number of members of the Court of St. James. The presence of royalty at the race track is always a lure, but this time it seemed to redouble the quality of attraction.

COOK STICKS TO STORY OF FRANK'S SCARE

Negress Released After Being Catelched Two Days by the Police and Prosecutor.

With a parade that fairly teems with possibilities of antique features, the retail grocers of Atlanta will celebrate the opening of the annual Wednesday half-holiday season Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. For two hours downtown streets of the city will belong to the 10,000 grocers, butchers and retailers who will take part in the festivities and occasional promotions of the day.

One of the unique features which puts the stamp of individuality on the parade is the fact that the grocers are going to be furnished through the rattle and bang of military accoutrements in the march by a detachment of mounted policemen, and they will lead the parade.

The atmosphere of the middle and rear end of the parade will be strictly commercial, but this section will be the butcher's cleaver and the grocer's and the grocer's and the grocer's.

Misses of the parade are the delivery wagons and milk and ice wagons, which will make a portion of the parade, and those who desire the rattle and bang of military accoutrements in the march by a detachment of mounted policemen, and they will lead the parade.

Milton H. Smith, the veteran president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, is in Atlanta taking a leading part in the Alabama 2 1/2-cent passenger rate fight in the Federal court here.

White Mr. Smith is known to be bitterly opposed to State interference with the operation of railroads, and he refused to make comment upon his own case.

Also, he showed his usual very dignified attitude for newspaper reporters and photographers. A picture was snapped of him in the lobby of the Piedmont Hotel. It is the first one published in many years.

It generally costs money to get in the newspapers just what I want to say," said Mr. Smith, declining to be interviewed.

"I once in a while I send a statement to a paper, which, as a rule, is the answer to statements made by a public officer," said Mr. Smith, declining to be interviewed.

The complaint is that it is plagiarized from Miss Correll's novel, "The People's King."

KING AND QUEEN IN THRONGS AT THE DERBY

Record Crowd Swarms to Epsom Downs for Greatest British Turf Event.

EPSON, ENGLAND, June 4.—Cragnour, owned by C. J. Bowers, and ridden by John Ruff, an American jockey, won the derby on Epsom Downs today.

EPSON, ENGLAND, June 4.—A record crowd swarmed Epsom Downs today for the running of the Derby, the crowning classic of the British turf. Among them were many American tourists who had hoped that they might witness their participation in a contest upon a horse owned by a citizen of the United States. In this, however, they were disappointed for the only American-owned horse, Richard Croker's Knights Key, was scratched.

The weather is brilliant and the track hard and fast. The three favorites, in order named, are C. Bowers' Cragnour, D. B. Brown's Shogun and W. R. Raper's Louisa.

King George, who entered four horses in the blue ribbon event, and Queen Mary traveled from London accompanied by a number of members of the Court of St. James.

The presence of royalty at the race track is always a feature, but this time it seemed to redouble its qualities of attraction.

Daring Split Gown Worn. During French style of dresses, which have become common at London, and other French race courses, were worn, although it was noticed that the Queen's dress was simple almost to the point of being old-fashioned.

Some of the women of the awagat set, however, wore split skirts that nearly revealed the undergarments.

Although there were no American horses running this afternoon, they were countered by the fact that the race was a party for the benefit of the American Red Cross.

Out of the original 210 starters only 100 were left after the first start. The race was a party for the benefit of the American Red Cross.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken to guard the Derby candidates on account of threats made by militant suffragettes to poison blooded horses. Special guards had been employed for weeks to guard the stable.

Million Bet on Cragnour. A fortune estimated at $1,000,000 was wagered on Cragnour, the mount of John Ruff, American jockey, who won the derby.

Whitney, Herman Duryea and other American jockeys had entered horses, but all scratched them for one reason or another. The Derby is worth approximately $50,000 to the winner.

Wife and I are Friends of INSTANT POSTUM

"There's a Reason" "I used to drink coffee—was nervous and irritable." Wife said so.

"So when the new food-drink, Instant Postum, came along she said to herself: 'Here's where I break back of the coffee habit.'"

"Instant Postum is good stuff. I sleep better, smile more, and miss my indigestion."

A level teaspoonful of Instant Postum in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

Postum comes in two forms. Regular Postum (must be boiled). Instant Postum doesn't require boiling, but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water.

Law to Protect Babies

BERLIN, June 4.—A bill to be introduced into the Reichstag making it illegal to sell baby bottles from bottles with rubber nipples on the ground that it is too dangerous.

Keep your jelly closet free from roaches. No vermin can thrive where CN is used. CN gets into the cracks and corners and destroys the breeding spots. CN, in addition to being a powerful insecticide, is also a powerful ascarbic acid, and safer to use. Keep a bottle on the kitchen shelf. Use CN regularly. 10c, 25c, 50c, $1.
